OBJECTIVE

The vast ocean of knowledge is boundless without any limits and prejudices. Hence, it is my duty as teacher and most importantly an educator to help the students skim through this ocean of knowledge, learning and growing in the process to become aware and better human beings. Acquainting the students with the growing changes in all the spheres of life like social, political, economic, and also helping them acquire the skills to navigate through any situation in life would be my humble act of giving back to the society.
